

FYI: Africa

Combating COVID-19 and Business Opportunities for Singapore Companies

In brief

Africa's response to coronavirus has been remarkable, drawing on the experience such as the Ebola epidemic. Leaders have acted swiftly with containment measures to prevent straining their healthcare systems.

Challenges in the continent include limited food processing expertise, the need for automation in a technologically challenged environment, logistics and supply chain network to urban areas, SME development, sustainability and better public health standards.

Contents of this brief are distilled from conversations in the FYI Webinar held on 14 May 2020, 3 PM - 4 PM by SBF in partnership with a distinguished panel comprising:

Venkataramani Srivathsan
Managing Director and CEO,
Africa and Middle East Olam
International

Amit Agrawal Senior Vice President, West Africa Olam
International

M D Ramesh Group CEO - Agri
Tropical General Investments
(TGI) Group

Johan Burger Business Development Manager, United Arab Emirates University

Should you require further information or assistance, please contact Ms Stella Ng stella.ng@sbf.org.sg
+65 6827 6842

FYI webinars are developed by GlobalConnect@SBF to provide useful information for Singapore companies looking to establish a global footprint. To learn more about how your company can benefit from the SBF's suite of internationalization-related services please send a note to: globalconnect@sbf.org.sg

West Africa

- Urban logistics and supply chain
- SME development and sustainability
- Training and development partnerships
- Fintech - remote banking/cashless economy
- Food Processing and Automation

Pan Africa and Egypt

- Food security and processing
- Healthcare
- Ecommerce
- Remote education/skill development
- ICONS NEEDED- VISUAL

East Africa

- Healthcare
- Digital Solutions
- Urban logistics and supply chain
- FMCG Manufacturing

Southern Africa

- Digital financial and health services
- Agri support for food security
- Support for education

DID YOU KNOW?

Africa's population is set to hit more than 1.5 billion by 2025. Singapore companies should explore entering the African market as the continent grapples to meet the rising needs of an emerging economy.